A screenshot of a Moodle login page. At the top center is the University of Puerto Rico seal. Below it is a form with two fields: the first field contains a user icon and the email "Juan.delpueblo@upr.edu", with a white box labeled 3 positioned above it; the second field contains a lock icon and a password input field with masked text, with a white box labeled 4 positioned above it. At the bottom right of the form is a green "Login" button. Below the form is a note: "Login using your username and password provided by the University of Puerto Rico." and "By accessing this service, you agree to the terms set by the institutional policy for the use of electronic resources." At the very bottom left is a link "Cambiar lenguaje...".
